Highly Important to Farmers.

HAVING purchased the right to use BOMMERS Method of making MANURE in all the towns in the County, not previously disposed of, west of Penobscot, and south of Penobscot, rivers, I am ready to sell the same, by towns or individual rights, to any best cash purchasers

When it is taken into consideration, that one ton of dry straw—made in the space of 17 days—be converted into from six to ten bushels of rich unctuous manure fit for cornfield—that green vegetables and turf, can be made into manure of equal value, in ten days—and that the high temperature produced by fermentation destroys all abominable seeds, than no valuable method can be fairly considered as forming a new era in Agriculture. That the interesting results have been frequently realized by Bommer's process. I am prepared to show by testimony from scientific and practical farmers in various sections of the country.

Single rights will be sold for the moderate price of four dollars, and the purchaser will be furnished with a book describing the process of making the foregoing, together with many other kinds of compost manures, hitherto unknown in this part of the country. To those who purchase by towns, or in private companies my terms will be as low as in any other section of the State

Persons at a distance, by forwarding four dollars (post paid), will be promptly furnished with a single right and book as aforesaid.

SPINAL COMPLAINT

POSITIVELY CURED BY THE

Cramp and Pain Killer!!

MESSRS CURTIS & PERKINS—

Gentlemen:

It is with pleasure that we communicate to you the following facts, and to the public, who may be suffering from disease of a similar character:

Our daughter a girl of fifteen years of age, was taken down with what is called the Spinal Complaint, and in a few months was almost apparently on the verge of her grave. Her case was examined by different medical gentlemen, and all were of one opinion as to the nature of her complaint, and each prescribed for her, but without any good effect; her form became emaciated, her head drawn down upon her left shoulder, and she was unable to walk only a few steps. After trying many highly recommended prescriptions for her relief, but without effect, I called at your Apothecary Establishment, where I could find any thing that would be likely to help her, and you informed me that the Cramp and Pain Killer, supplied with the Plaster accompanying it, had proved effectual to a daughter of yours, and recommended it to me; and we are happy in saying that we shall ever feel under the deepest obligations to you for recommending so invaluable a medicine which we believe has raised our daughter from a premature grave and entirely cured her. We have purchased seven bottles of the Cramp and Pain Killer, with some of the Plaster, and confidently say they have effected a perfect cure. Our daughter can now travel at any and all times, without feeling any effects from her back—her form is wholly restored, and she is in every way well. Should any doubt the above statement, we, at the same time (by request of friends) are laboring under a similar affliction, it is well and upon us at our residence, Union street Bangor, we can satisfy the prejudiced mind of the facts. We would further say, that while using the above medicine we bought a bottle of Davis' Pain-Killer and applied it, but while using it found the result different from that manufactured by you from some cause unknown to us it did not have that virtue in it so invaluable a medicine to suffering humanity

Yours truly

JOHN W. SHERWOOD,
AMANDA M SHERWOOD.

In a plea of the case for that the said Defendants at China, to wit Houlton, on the twenty ninth day of July, A. D eighteen hundred and forty two, jointly and severally promised one Allen Brackett to pay him or his order one hundred dollars in one year from date, with interest at eight per centum, and the said Allen thereafter transferred to the said plaintiff, by his endorsement in writing, for value received order the contents of said note to be paid to the plaintiff, according to the effect and tenor thereof, and the Defendants became liable and in consideration thereof promised the plaintiff to pay him the same, according to the tenor of said note. Yet though often requested, said defendants have not paid said sum or any part thereof, but neglect and refuse so to do, to the damage of the said plaintiff, as he says, the sum of one hundred and seventy-five dollars.

Juvenile Concert and Floral Festival.

The Concert and Festival by the Juvenile Singing School taught by Mr Hopkins, took place at Masken Hall, on Thursday evening.—It was a grand floral display, and a rich musical entertainment. The little folks performed admirably and won high praises from their numerous friends who were present, and who nearly filled the hall. Nothing so rich and beautiful—so pure and agreeable — has ever been produced here, in the way of a musical entertainment, and Mr Hopkins and his school richly deserve the warm thanks of the community for affording them so much pleasure. The little girls appeared like angels in ips, and the whole school like a bed of precious musical flowers—and their Queen was so appropriately chosen, and so gracefully crowned, that every observer felt a thrill of pleasure.

Near the close of the performance, Col. W. H. Mills expressed to Mr Hopkins the delight he had experienced, and for himself, and in behalf of others, he requested that the Concert might be repeated Mr Hopkins immediately agreed to the proposal, and the Concert will be repeated on Thursday evening next, when no doubt not, from the high character of this exhibition, that the hall will be filled.

U. S. Senator for Maine.

We learn that the Governor has appointed W B S Moor, Esq., of this city, the Attorney General of the State, Senator to supply the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr Fairfield, until the meeting of the Legislature in May.—Mr Moor is a man of respectable character and talents He is understood to be decidedly in favor of the conquest and subjugation of the whole of Mexico, and utterly opposed to the Wilmot Proviso, or any limitation of the extension of Slavery

Mr Moor will leave for Washington on Monday next.

Things Lost and Found.

The little folks at the Boat festival on Thursday evening, left in the Reading Room a cloak, a work-bag, comforters, mittens, gloves, &c., which they can have by calling for the same

One Miss left a wreath of artificial flowers, composed of fish scales of natural color; which has been taken, probably by mistake, or for the purpose of preserving it for the owner. This wreath was wrought at the South Sea Islands, and is highly prized by the owner It is returned to this office it will reach her

Mr Editor—

The following paragraph comes from the Eastern Argus, it is so appropriate for the latitude of our Lyceum that I beg you to give it an insertion, adding as another "improvement" the use of eye glasses, and oblige many who wish to hear the lectures undisturbed "Amusement.—The last place for young fellows and girls to do their courting and flirting in, (one would suppose) is the lecture room—and yet the complaints are not few nor far between" of the annoyance at our Lyceum lectures, of a noisy class of young folks, who seem to act as though the hall was lighted and warmed especially to give them an opportunity to make themselves appear ridiculous." To the Rev. Dr. Pomroy.—No. 3.

Dear Sir

I have already examined, and at some length, the charge of infidelity made by you against such as profess to receive the Bible for the word of God, but reject, what you regard, its fundamental doctrines. I have aimed to show that this is a fictitious, unauthorized rule, which cannot be defended without an entire departure from the first principles of Protestant Christianity. I do not wish inadvertently to this topic again. Still there are one or two additional remarks which it is difficult to suppress We sometimes submit to a general proposition without a due consideration of the consequences which will necessarily follow when it is once fully adopted' Your standard, it hardly need be said, would force me to refuse the christian name to some of the greatest advocates and most eminent defenders of the Christian Religion. The labors of Channing, Watt, Priestly, cannot soon be forgotten In these days, when a miracle is regarded as an impossible thing, and the simple, life-like narratives of the New Testament are reduced to pious fables or myths, it is refreshing to turn to the works of the eloquent Channing, whose writings, the stoutest bigot should blush to deny, have done much to beget a firm and rational faith in the divine mission and authority of Christ, and in the truth and infinite value of his Gospel. But as he and they rejected the doctrine of "the trinne God," you must rank them among the enemies of Christianity, or admit that your rule is both intolerant and absurd Milton, Locke, and Newton too, were infected with the Unitarian heresy and are now, unless God's judgments are more merciful than your own, numbered with the lost Suspicion must rest even upon the piety of Watts, whose hymns you are accustomed to sing without omitting the doxologies that he, doubtless, would have rejected, had but a few more years been added to his life.—Ann Lardner, the candid, careful thinker, whose "Credibility of the Gospel History" is upon all hands regarded as one of the ablest and most valuable works ever written in defence of the Christian Faith, must be put down as an infidel beyond dispute Clemens, and Origen (who was of some small service to the church in his age) both believed in the salvation of all So did Oberlin, whose praise is in all the earth, Wm. Law, author of "The Serious Call," and Bishop Newton and Burnet may be mentioned in the list. Foster, whose works have recently been given to the American public, defended this cheering creed These men, with others of ancient and modern time, were so simple as to suppose that God has some nobler design than to punish sin once without mercy and without end And for this, they were "infidels," from whom we must steadfastly withhold the christian name! Really, Sir, one could smile at so soon adopt your Creed as to believe that the candid and intelligent of your own communion will not, upon mature reflection, discard a standard so short and narrow as this

Your Lectures are now closed The infidelity of Transcendentalism, Fourierism, Mesmerism, and the Press, were your chief topics of remark. Of these I can only wish to be silent But I cannot pass some portions of your first and last discourses without further comment In the first, in addition to a rule which confines the name christian to such as embrace evangelical doctrines, you were understood to say that "infidelity is taught from some pulpits in this City" Under the circumstances, it is fair, I think, to presume that you uttered the remark; certainly you have not corrected or disavowed it. Will you now inform the public to what pulpits you designed your remark to apply?—Did you refer to Mr Parker, or Mr Channing? Had you shown conclusively that these gentlemen should be regarded as "infidels" you would then have failed to sustain your declaration in regard to certain pulpits here

But you have not shown that they preached infidelity in this city. You have done nothing to sustain your assertion You produced no sermon, or portions of sermons, not a line nor a word in proof There are eight evangelical pulpits,—nine, if you are pleased to include the Catholic,—one Unitarian, one Universalist pulpit in our midst, I believe. (I omit the Swedenborgians, who are, as yet, without a church, or preacher) To which of these did you allude? In one view this may be regarded as a minor matter.

He who walks in his integrity" consequently that it is a light thing to be judged of man, will be little disturbed by any accusation like this But there are reasons why this accusation should be proved, or withdrawn If true, it should be put beyond the shadow of a doubt; If there are in our midst, "wolves in sheep's clothing" (infidels under the disguise of christian teachers) let them be exposed, their congregations and the community will thank you for the exposure Such men are not simply "in error," they are hypocrites and their true character should be known. On the other hand, if this accusation is false, unjust suspicion are excited, men whose convictions of truth are as sincere as your own, who honor Christ as their Master, and hope for salvation in his name, are greatly wronged. Their influence, also, must be seriously lessened Christians will, of course, refrain from entering infidel churches and from listening to those who steal the christian name to propagate their infidel opinions. Let us, then, come to the question, to what pulpits did you refer? A desire to shun personal ties cannot be your reason for silence. You have spoken freely of Mr Emerson, Mr Parker and Mr Channing and quoted from their writings; you have betrayed no reluctance in mentioning names Now if it is true that infidelity is preached to our midst Sabbath after Sabbath, year after year, it must be granted that our young men are in constant peril, and far likelier to be ruined than by Transcendentalism, Fourierism, or by the words and silly revelations of A Jackson Davis And are you willing to say no more, when a single "word at the man" might avert the evil and secure the final salvation of many whom you are compelled in regard as standing upon the very brink of eternal woe! Do not shrink from your responsibility, Sir, but come forward and answer the question without reserve. Tell us from what pulpits in this city infidelity is preached, whom we are to regard as infidel preachers, and be careful to sustain your statements by proofs which cannot be gainsayed.

But you saw fit, at last, to designate Universalism as a system of infidelity, or else as the stepping-stone to infidelity, you did not fully decide which But "it leads to infidelity." But what proof, Sir? And where are the data to justify this conclusion? Has some Universalists have denied the faith and become infidels, is probably true, but I think the instances are few Some Calvinists have become Universalists, and some have have adopted the doctrine of the New Church without ever having taken what you regard the first step in the downward course. Mr Matthew Hale Smith, (not a very credible witness, I allow, but since he was endorsed by responsible men, his testimony may be quoted) said, in your pulpit, in his pulpit, against infidels are, as a general rule, able men; they reject the Bible because it teaches the doctrines which the Orthodox find in it." Facts in this instance sustain Mr S. in a part of his statement Intelligent men, educated under Orthodox influences, accept the common interpretation given to the Bible by evangelical christians and as they often are compelled to reject the essential doctrines, they discard the Bible Instances are not wanting, let me add, in which Universalism has restored such rebellious to a devout faith in revealed religion 'We speak that we do know and testify that we have seen.' We believe in one God—we receive the Scriptures as a revelation of his will and character, of our duty and final destiny, we honor Jesus as the Teacher, Exemplar and Saviour of men; we hope for a resurrection of the dead Both of the just and the unjust, and rejoice in the promise which gleams on the inspired page that, at last, every knee shall bow and every tongue confess that Jesus is Lord to the glory of God! Does this lead to infidelity, to atheism? Can you trace the most distant connection between them—Blot out the Bible, and could any man expect to prove the final salvation of the world through Jesus Christ?

You were pleased to say also, that this doctrine adds to the Bible and declares that 'God will not bring men into judgement?' I would not be hasty here, but you must allow me to ask you, as an honest man, if you do not know that this is untrue? Are you not yet aware that this is a question of interpretation not of denial?—Suppose a Universalist minister should say in his pulpit "Calvinists do not believe the Bible; they add to its teachings, and declare that God will not save all men to be saved—and we have a right to say to them, "making your pardon, that's a lie, your own words prove that you reject the Scriptures." I do not ask what estimate you would form of his taste, but would you not at once indignantly explain, either he is an ignorant man, or dishonest in this course. If I am wrong here, forgive me, Sir, but your own conscience shall bear me witness that the provocation was by no means slight.

Once more you repeat the old, oft-worn accusation, that "Universalism was preached by the Serpent in Eden;" If such is your belief, it is not a little singular that you should call it a system of modern infidelity. We believe that God threatened our first parents with moral death; we hold that the penalty was inflicted, and that they died to innocence, purity, joy, on the very day of transgression. "To be carnally minded is death" We do not, therefore, teach the doctrine of the Serpent. We believe also, that Satan shall be destroyed, that all sin and evil shall come to an end, that the reign of Christ shall be universal and his victory complete. Is this a doctrine "pleasing to the Devil?"

You believe,—it is the current orthodoxy to-day,—in the personal existence of Satan, and regard him as the author of all evil He was once an angel but sinning in heaven, where no unclean thing can enter, he was cast down to hell. There he plotted the ruin of our world. Escaping to the new-made earth, he seduced our first parents, and in a brief hour of time gave existence to an evil which the infinite God in infinite years can not overcome or destroy. And although God, and Christ, and angels are enlisted in the great work of redeeming the world from his grasp, yet the Serpent will circumvent and defeat them all. His kingdom shall endure, and untold millions for whom Christ died, and for whose salvation the Church pleads with groanings that cannot be uttered, will remain in endless rebellion and sin! And the man who believes that monstrous theological fiction, whose Satan is not an unsuccessful rival of his God, and a divider of the inheritance which God has bequeathed to his one by son, when we affirm that "there shall be one fold and one shepherd," and that God shall "be all in all," declares that we preach the doctrine of the Serpent!

But I must close. Am I in so doing, let me say, that I do not doubt but that you regard Universalism as false, and that you really deprecate its influence. I look upon Calvinism as untrue and pernicious. Whoever desires that the gospel we preach may be crowned with large success. I have a friendly proposal to make to you, to submit to your notice. I hereby tender you the use of my Church for a series of lectures upon the Faith for whose defence I am set, its supposed proofs, its 'immoral' or 'infidel' tendencies, as you may elect. I will give you a respectful hearing, and invite my congregation also to attend, all of whom it is not probable you will ever otherwise address, and many of whom you may, perhaps, convince of their 'fatal' error. I make this offer with the understanding that you will grant me the use of your Church for an equal number of discourses in exposition and defence of my religious Faith It will, of course, be expected that you, on your part will be present and invite your congregation in good faith, also to attend I do not propose a controversy We must pass conduct our services alone as in our own desks upon the Sabbath day I do not ask you to recognize me as a Christian Minister I concede that you are one only in so far as you preach Christ, and are governed by his spirit I believe that the course suggested would awaken at extra, engage many in the study of the Scriptures and result in much good,—and I trust, therefore that you will cheerfully accede to the proposal.

I have done If in any instance I have "erred in my speech," none will more [illegible] myself The pain was the [illegible] through which I could hope to reach those for whom, mainly, I have written

I am, Yours &c.

Fresh Halibut.

The first trip of Halibut this season arrived on Monday from Georges' Bank, in the Sch. Centurion, Capt Bailey. Capt. From the Boston Courier

'And on us, and on all that we have, or see or do, is written, rest not—Continue not—forward to thy doom.'—Carlyle's French Revolution.

Ay! for the finite man within,
The Infinite is ever dwelling;
Still on, some glorious end to win,
The strong desires are ever swelling;—
Far distant still the noble aim,
Like a Beulah island far-beaming,
Wrapped in a cloud of golden mist,
Whence gleams of purest light are streaming
Or some sweet note of heavenly lay,
Urging the spirit's earnest way,
'Rest not—Continue not—forward!'

Oh, ever thus man pleases on,—
The upward heights to heaven ascending,
Or towards the lowest depths of woe,
His downward footsteps rapidly bending;
Ambition's call in good or ill,—
The voice of Hope—Love's earnest pleading,
The spirit's whisper, low and still,
Each passing hour, each day succeeding,
No pause allow him, no delay,
Still urging on his eager way,
'Rest not—Continue not—Forward!'

The flowers of Summer fade and die,
When Earth the Autumn windsare sweeping,
But rise in Spring-time bloom again,
Through endless chain forever keeping.
With unheard harmony the stars
Their path of radiant glory pressing,
The cloud, the ocean wave, the dew,
From change to change are still progressing;
On God's fair works His hand doth write,
In glowing lines of living light,
'Rest not—Continue not—Forward!'

Nor shall the earnest striver here,
To earthly fame or bliss aspiring,
Be left, with nought to hope or cheer,
Still pressing ever on untiring.
For the fair book of worldly fame,
Immortal names in light enshrineth,
And Pleasure calls with siren tongue,
And Hope's bright bow shows him, shineth,
And the dim Future beamseems fire
Before his light bewildered eyes;—
'Rest not—Continue not—Forward'

But to the spirit passing on
To higher still and purer regions,
The light of Heaven shall gild the path
Encompassed by celestial legions,
Fear not nor be discouraged! lo
The hand of Shining Ones surrounding;—
And in the twilight's mellow glow,
Soft tones from heavenly harps resounding,
Steal faintly from the Paper alone,—
'Stay not amid the things of Time—
Rest not—Continue not—Forward!'

Nor shall it cease, when earth withdrawn,
The heaven-born soul, its fetters rending,
Immortal venture shall put on,
Midst glorious light and life unbending;
On—on,—while ceaseless ages roll,
Through boundless realms of truth progressing,
No limits stay his eager soul,
To higher, clearer knowledge pressing,—
Resting, as onward on each he tread,
The candidate of the Living God,
'Rest not—Continue not—Forward!'

* There were some thousands which moved a little of practical infidelity in the Hanover street Church at a meeting of some of the friends of the A. M. Boardfield some fifteen months ago It was declared that institutions could receive no patronage unless their churches without censure, but would at once be vacated should they propose to adopt a Universalist or Unitarian! I suppose that Dr. Anderson was upon the floor, rather than in the pulpit, when he uttered the disgraceful sentiments—the report in Banner Gazette for June 6, 1846.

BY THE LAST MAIL.

CONGRESS.

Washington, Jan. 4.

Mr Butler offered a resolution inquiring as to the expediency of authorizing the President to promote officers of the army immediately, in newly raised regiments without prejudice to their present commissions.

The Senate then went into executive session and then adjourned.

In the House—

On motion of Mr Botts, the resolution directing the renewal of the late contract for the transportation of the great Southern Mail was postponed till to-morrow

On motion of Mr Brodhead the house went into Committee of the whole on the State of the Union on the President's annual message, Mr J. R Ingersoll in the chair.

The resolutions of Mr Vinton, referring several portions to appropriate committees, were read when Mr Brodhead offered his substitute and stated his reasons.

Mr Giddings moved to amend the first of Mr Vinton's resolutions so as to refer the Assisted slave case to a select committee. Mr Giddings' proposition was rejected.

Mr Vinton addressed the committee in reply to Mr Brodhead, and the committee rose.

Mr McLane, of Maryland, moved to amend by adding—"If the information had not been previously furnished"

Mr Thompson of Mississippi, moved to amend by including a call for information in regard to the return of Mexico of Gen Paredes.

Mr Thompson's amendment was accepted by Mr Goggin, and the previous question was moved. It was sustained.

The main question was then ordered, which the Speaker said would first be on the amendment.

Mr McLane desired to modify it, which the Speaker decided to be in order.

Mr Toombs appealed from the Speaker's decision.

The decision was reversed, 52 to 15

Mr McLane then withdrew his amendment and the resolution, as amended by Mr Thompson, then passed, ayes 149, nays 15. Adjourned.

On motion of Mr Cass, the volunteer bill was laid on the table, until the ten regiment bill was acted on

The Senate then proceeded to the orders of the day, the first of which was the ten regiment bill.

The Salem Register states that George H. Devereux, of Salem, (Captain of the Salem L. Infantry) has been selected by the Governor and Commander-in-Chief, to be the successor of Gen. Oliver, in the Adjutant General's Department.

It is a curious fact yet to be explained, that the electric telegraph will not work in the tunnel of the Manchester, Sheffield, and Lincolnshire Railway

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP!"

The following is from a respectable merchant, dated Lancaster, Pa., June 10, 1846.

To Mr Byrne, No 8 South Third St. Philadelphia.

Dear Sir: I have this day had heavier proofs of the efficacy of whom I made mention to you as having taken your EXPECTORANT with such decided effect. He is a respectable farmer, living a few miles from here. I was so much interested in a detailed account he gave me of his cough and cure, that I embrace the first leisure moment to communicate it to you, and if the cure is as radical as it appears to be, it is the most remarkable one I have ever known.

For 22 years (after having the measles) he has been suffering with a cough of the most distressing kind, getting worse as he advanced in years (he is now 35) Frequent turns of coughing, and difficulty of breath, raising from an hour to an hour and a half would come upon him with such severity as to exhaust him, with strangling until his eyes became bloodshot. He had despaired of being cured, having tried, physicians and a thousand things without relief For some weeks immediately previous to his taking the Expectorant, he had been under the care of an eminent physician, and during his cough I recommended to Him your Expectorant. He at first said he had tried so many things that he had no confidence in anything, but I induced him to take a bottle, by telling him of persons of my acquaintance who had been cured by it. This was on Tuesday; then a gill he took of it, and says that it was the first comfortable night's sleep he had enjoyed for years. On the Thursday following, (only two days afterwards) he went to work, and has continued to make a full hand on his farm ever since (now nearly two months). He told me to-day that for the last week he had cut and split a hand-sawed rails, or made 100 panneis of fence per day, has been in the water to wash his sheep, and otherwise exposed, without the least symptoms of a return of his cough, it having entirely disappeared, and stringent of all, one-third of a bottle has produced the effect. He seems so thankful and overjoyed that he "wants to talk all day about it," and says that if he could not procure another bottle, he would refuse $100 for the remainder of the bottle he has left.

Your Carolina Wine Balsam I have also used or recommended to others, for the last ten years, with the most blessed effect. Respectfully, yours,

JOHN H. ANDERSON.

Timber Land for sale.

ABOUT 2500 acres of Timber Land, situated in Township No. 3, 3d Range, west from the east line of the State; the same being an undivided third of the north ½ part of said township. The east and west branches of the Mattawamkeag Rivers pass entirely through the tract making the distance to haul timber comparatively small.

The facilities for getting the lumber to market are unsurpassed, and the expense of driving, small, there being those who are always ready to contract to drive logs from this township for from 25 to 37½ cents per thousand feet.

The above property belongs to the estate of a gentleman recently deceased, and payment will be required in cash, or that which will command the same upon the execution of the deed.

Should a partition be desired by the purchaser, commissioners for that purpose could probably be appointed by consent of parties.

The land will be sold with or without the interest in the present winter operations.
